

Codebook for Asian American Mobilization

Sara Sadhwani, Pomona College

This dataset was created by the author and draws from several sources:

- 1.) Publicly available surname-matched vote returns available from California’s Statewide Database held at UC Berkeley School of Law. three unique data files for each year were merged. These include (1) the Statement of Vote, which reports final vote tallies for each candidate from all counties and certified by the Secretary of State; (2) the Registration file, which reports the number of Asian American and Latino voters registered in each precinct using surname matching; and (3) the Voters file which reports the final vote at the precinct level with surname matching. All data is available from the website: <https://statewidedatabase.org/>
- 2.) Publicly available data from the US Census Bureau’s American Community Survey that captures the percent Asian by national origin in state legislative district level was merged onto the vote returns. Datafile DP05 5-year estimates via American Fact Finder was used. For the 2012 and 2014 election, the 2012, 2014 files (2011-2015 estimates) were used and for the 2016 and 2018 elections the 2016 and 2018 files were used (2013-2017 estimates).
- 3.) Margin of victory as reported by the Statewide Database (see point 1) and reconfirmed with the official returns released by the California Secretary of state. The final margin of victory was calculated by the author as the percentage of the vote received by the winning candidate minus the percentage of the vote received by the losing candidate. California vote returns are available by election year from the Secretary of State’s website: <https://www.sos.ca.gov/elections/prior-elections/>
- 4.) Race/ethnicity/national origin and gender of the candidates. This was assessed and hand coded by the author.
